

Meeting Room Policy

Approved by the Board of Trustees on July 15, 2021.

The Franklin-Springboro Public Library (FSPL) meeting rooms are available free of charge during operating hours to local non-profit, civic, cultural, and educational groups. The meeting rooms are a community resource, but the FSPL does not endorse the purposes and policies of organizations using the meeting rooms.

FSPL programs take precedence over other meeting room activities. Approval of meeting room requests is made with regard to the operational needs of the whole library, including available parking, staffing levels, and time constraints. The FSPL reserves the right to review all applications and may demand sufficient time to make proper investigation before granting approval.
